

Dr. Shalini Dhyani, Principal Scientist, CSIR-NEERI, has brought significant recognition to the institute through her outstanding work. She was honoured at the IUCN World Conservation Congress 2025 in Abu Dhabi, UAE, with the IUCN Commission Award for her exemplary contribution as Vice Chair (Asia) and Steering Committee Member of the Commission on Ecosystem Management (CEM) of International Union for Conservation of Nature for the term 2021–2025. The award, presented by CEM Chair Dr. Angela Andrade, acknowledges her leadership in advancing the Red Listing of Ecosystems and promoting nature-based solutions across Asia.

CSIR-NEERI congratulates Dr. Shalini Dhyani on this remarkable achievement.

