

Evaluation study for water treatment technologies undertaken by CSIR-NEERI prior to September 30, 2018 needs to be redone

“This is to inform that any evaluation study for water treatment technologies undertaken by CSIR-NEERI prior to September 30, 2018 needs to be redone in view of change in policy for evaluation of water treatment technologies. The Institute is revising/standardising protocol for laboratory and field based evaluation of water treatment technologies and evaluation of the technologies will be undertaken as per the revised protocol. Clarification can be sought as per the following details: